What is PADI?

PADI is the world's largest dive training organisation - this means that, if you plan to travel and dive, your PADI qualification is the one most likely to be accepted. If you plan to pursue a career in diving once again - the most job opportunities are available for PADI certified dive professionals. If you are learning to dive purely for pleasure you are still very wise to invest in a PADI program. PADI offer you the best instructional materials, highest safety standards and most time flexible program. PADI are also using technology to enhance their services. For example if you are on holiday and have left your dive certification at home you can still go diving - simply go down to the PADI Centre and sign up for a dive. PADI centres can use 'Dive Chek' to verify your certification on the internet!
